The Sunday School parade which was to have been held Sunday afternoon has been indefinitely postponed on account of the epidemic of Spanish influenza now prevailing and in compliance with the request of the health committee that no large gatherings be held either indoors or out.

Mr. Algernon Coleman Chalmers recalls the invitations to the marriage of his sister Mrs. William Bryant to Mr. Arthur Herbert, jr., at St. Paul's Episcopal Church October 12, on account of the serious epidemic of Spanish influenza, owing to the churches being closed by order of the health department. The wedding, therefore, will be private.

The offer was at once submitted to Dr. W. L. Wood, of the United States Public Health Service, who stated that he would give it consideration.

The building so generously offered by Messrs. Greene and Neuland contains 100 sanitary cots, 8 shower baths electric lights, is well ventilated and would make an ideal temporary hospital.

TURKISH PEACE NOTE TOO REPORTED ON WAY

Paris, October 7.— The German propaganda service at Berlin announced today that Turkey through Spain has sent a note to President Wilson to the same effect and at the same time as the communication forwarded by Germany and Austria-Hungary.

The American picked up the survivors and is proceeding to port.

BRIDGE AGAIN BLOWN UP

Bern, October 8.—The Czernavoda bridge over the Danube river, joining Roumania proper with Dobrudja, which was blown up by the retreating Russians and which the Germans repaired at the beginning of their occupation of Roumania, again was blown up a few weeks ago, according to advices received at Bucharest.

Traffic between Berlin and Constantinople by way of Bucharest, Constanza and the Black sea is therefore again interrupted. The cause of the explosion which destroyed the bridge is not known.

NOT PEACE BUT A TRICK

Germany's Proposal Aroused Supreme Distrust.

Paris, Oct. 8.—Reno Viviani, President of the Council when the war broke out and head of the French Mission to the United States, interviewed by Information regarding the peace proposals of the Central Powers said yesterday:

"Germany has presented propositions to President Wilson, but are they really propositions for peace? The discourse of Chancellor Maxilimian appears to be merely the program of the majority. It is not a question of discussing the 14 propositions made by President Wilson for discussion of them as a basis for an armistice would not be in accord with the military advantage which we possess through the splendid services of our troops.

"Whether the enemy accords autonomy to Alsace-Lorraine is no longer a question, for we demand the return of the provinces to France, pure and simple, and without any trap for a referendum."

The requests for an armistice and the opening of peace parleys by the Central Powers is looked upon by the French press generally as an attempt to evade certain disaster. It is declared that Germany hopes to conclude a peace which will permit her to exploit the peace treaties of Brest- Litovsk and Bucharest and also to save the Hohenzollern dynasty.

An armistice under the present conditions, the newspapers think, is impossible. The conditions expressed by the new German Chancellor do not at all correspond with the conditions for peace laid down by President Wilson

Austria-Hungary recently again insisted that the Vatican undertake steps toward peace, it is reported in Rome according to a Havas dispatch from that city. The Vatican, it is added, rejected the demand.

The national congress of the Socialistic party which opened here yesterday adopted a resolution addressed to President Wilson concerning the peace proposals of the entral Powers. It expressed the view of the party that while indispensable diplomatic and military guarantees should be exacted from the enemy, it was the duty of the Allied nations not to reject without discussion such proposals as have been made.

The message says the party notes with joy the new result of the sustained efforts put forth and the great sacrifices made by the soldiers of the Allied democracies. The party likewise sees in the move made by the Central Powers, accompanied by the retirement of their troops from the fighting front the probability that the enemy peoples will be brought to a clearer understanding of right and liberty.

ARE STILL SMASHING

Pershing's Troops Make Farther Advance On Left Wing.

With the American Forces Northwest of Verdun, Oct. 8.—General Pershing's troops yesterday morning attacked the German positions on the left wing of this front. The Americans made progress to a point corresponding with their advance late Sunday in the region of Cunel woods on the right wing.

The presence of storm troops opposite the American center and the increased activity behind the German lines leads to the belief that the enemy is planning counter-attacks.

German patrols operated frequently in the center during the night and yesterday morning. The enemy artillery between 6 and 8 o'clock yesterday morning threw over a barrage. In the course of the night the Germans began an intermittent bombardment of the rear areas of the American lines.

There is increasing evidence that the Germans intend not only to hold the Kriemhilde position, if possible, but to force a fight in front of it. Consequently, the Americans now are fighting in the zone which the Germans have chosen for their main stand.

The Americans achieved another important, though local success by forcing the Germans out of Chatel Chehery, northwest of Apremenot.

Pushing forward, they overcame the stubborn resistance of the enemy and steeled themselves on the commanding heights west of the river Aire.

Nothing of importance occurred on the other portions of the American front throughout today.

London, Oct. 8.—The British line has been advanced on a front of four miles north of the Scarpe, Field Marshal Haig reports last night. The villages of Biache, St. Vaast and Oppy were captured.

British troops in the Lille sector and in the Beaurevoir district were reported yesterday to have made further slight advances, but they were mainly in the nature of line-straightening operations. Generally, it appears that the British armies for the moment have paused, but at the same time are taking advantage of the lull to improve their positions.

In the fighting around Aubencheul 400 prisoners were taken by Haig's men. At 0pp a minor operation gave the British ground, 34 prisoners and four machine guns. The enemy is holding the Masnieres-Beaurevoir line in as much strength as he can muster.

The Hindenburg system having been smashed, the Germans naturally supposed they may quickly be called upon to fight a great battle. Along the Masnieres-Beaurevoir line they have put in every man they could lay their hands on Great Britain's armies, military officers say, have secured satisfaction from the German cry of despair and have now forgotten it. They are continuing their plan to do their best toward administering a defeat to the enemy. Great events, the officers add may not be far distant.

VOLUNTEER NURSES

Nine Women Responded to Appeal to Wait on Sick at Humphreys

Among the Alexandrian women who have responded to appeal for nurses at Camp Humphreys are the following:

Mrs. Percy Evans, Mrs. A. R. Pease Mrs. Mary Baker, Mrs. O. F. C. Randolph, Mrs. Howard Baker, Miss Jessie Callahan, Mrs. J. T. Johnson, Miss Cora Cochran and Mrs. Sinclair. The need of nurses at the base hospital at this place is urgent and others who would like to volunteer their services are requested to meet promptly at 1 o'clock tomorrow morning in the room of the Chamber of Commerce.

NOTE SIGNED "HEINIE" PREDICTED BIG BLAST

Evidence tending to show that the explosion in the T. A. Gillespie shell-loading plant at Morgan, N. J., last week was caused by enemy agents has been discovered by government operatives in a letter predicting the explosion on Friday night signed "Heinie," and addressed to a man in Sonora, Mexico.

Agents of the department are investigating but the U. S. is inclined to question the genuineness of the letter which was picked up in the railroad station of a New Jersey town.

MAY CANVASS SUNDAY

Question of Making House to House Appeal For Sale of Liberty Bonds Will be Determined by Executive Committee at its Meeting Tomorrow Morning.

A house to house canvass in the interest of the sale of Liberty Bonds may be made Sunday by the local committee with a view of increasing the sale of the bonds.

This will be determined upon by the executive committee in charge of the loan at a meeting which is scheduled to be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Spanish influenza has considerably hampered the sale of the bonds and the committee determined to meet tomorrow to devise ways and means for boosting the sale of the bonds.

Many are of the opinion that should such a canvass be made it would result in the sale of many additional thousands of dollars worth of bonds which otherwise might not be sold.

There can be no denying of the fact that the spread of this disease has somewhat retarded the sale of the bonds.

The committee in charge of the sale however, is working hard for the success of the loan and there is every indication that Alexandria will "go over the top" by the close of the campaign, October 19.

Ministers Bond Boosters

The ministers of the city today are lending their efforts to boost the loan. They met the members of the executive committee of the loan this morning and agreed to write personal letters to every parishoner in their respective churches. That this will produce good results in aiding the sale of the bonds there can be no doubt The ministers are to be congratulated on this work.

TO OBTAIN HONOR PENNANT

When seventy-five per cent of the employees or members of any industrial plant, store, church, club or other organization, having twenty or more employes or members shall have subscribed to this loan, it will have the right to purchase at the cost of $2 a regulation honor pennant.

Percentage numbers reading "75," "80," "85," "90 95, 100, per cent will be furnished to be sewed on the upper white stripe of the pennant indicating that such percentage of employees of members are subscribers. This announcement was made today by Orlando H. Kirk, Chairman, honor roll committee.

DERNBURG IS DEFIANT

Amsterdam, Oct. 8—Germany's new ministry is one of national defense as well as of peace, and is prepared for a stand to the end against a humiliating peace, Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, former German minister of the colonies, declared in a statement according to Berlin advices.

"President Wilson's fourteen old and five new points can be accepted by us if put forward honestly without humiliation for Germany," Dr Deruburg said. "We shall not accept an unjust, humiliating peace. The new ministry is not only a ministry of peace, but, if necessary, a ministry of national defense, and, if it must be, to the bitter end."

J. B. M'CREARY DIES; HONORED IN KENTUCKY.

Richmond, Ky., Oct. 8.—James B. McCreary, twice Governor of Kentucky; six years a representative of his state in the United States Senate, and for several consecutive terms a member of the lower house of Congress, died at his home here today after a brief illness.

Mr. McCreary was eighty years old. He was a member of the Fiftieth, Fifty-first, Fifty-second, Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth Congresses and was elected to the United States Senate in 1908. His first election as Governor of Kentucky was in 1875. Thirty-six years later he again became successful candidate for the same office.

Approximately 100 civilian workers of the ordnance department in Washington have been taken ill with Spanish influenza.

THE HEALTH SITUATION

Dr. Wood Says Situation Improving Recommends Private Funerals—To Enforce Law Against Spitting on Sidewalks.

The number of cases of Spanish influenza here are decreasing is the opinion of Dr. W. L. Wood, special state health officer and of the United States public health service. Dr. Wood says that if the precautions, already published, are taken it will have a tendency to greatly lessen the spread of the disease. Dr. Wood also recommends that funerals be held privately, and only as few friends as possible outside of the family attend.

With a view of checking the spread of the disease he also recommends that everyone comply with the law regarding the expectorating on sidewalks. The police have been instructed to see that this law is enforced as far as possible.

A SOLITARY GERMANY.

It is a matter of some significance that the Vossische Zeitung predicts that Turkey will follow the example of Bulgaria, and Rumania and the whole Balkan country would be mobilized against Austria-Hungary, in which event the capitulation of the Dual Monarchy would follow. "Germany would then have to continue the war alone and could concentrate all her forces on the west front, but the Entente would also have considerable forces free."

The picture of Germany, solitary and alone, fighting a world in arms may possibly be heroic. It would inspire another work of modern German painting. But we have no idea that it will nerve the German people to continued fighting. If the German people believed that if they surrendered they would me massacred, it would be natural that they should sell their lives as dear as possible. But the Groessere Deutschland admits that the people are not moved by the official stories of extermination; they do not believe that in the event of a German surrender the Allied armies would slaughter the people, men, women and children, and devastate the farms and burn the towns. Imperial rule might be exterminated; the present ruling classes might be destroyed but the German people would not be destroyed if the Government should give up the struggle. On the contrary their destruction now going on, would stop.

Vorwaerts' lurid picture of an invaded Germany was probably designed to incite the people to more imperative demands that the Government avert invasion by surrendering. Whatever Georg Bernhardt's purpose may have battling alone against enemies who Germany, deserted by her Allies as been, the effect of his description o will certainly overcome her, must inevitably be to move his readers to th conclusion that a war which has been lost had better be abandoned before more Germans are killed and more German property is taken by the Government and burned up on the battle fields. The German people will probably make every effort to prevent the invasion of their country. And when they are deserted by Bulgaria, Turkey and even Austria-Hungary, there will be in no doubt whatever that they have been conquered, and their country will be occupied if they do not accept the terms of the Allies Philadelphia Record.

BORIS ASCENDS THRONE

Son of Ferdinand Promises to Respect Constitution and Work For Bulgaria's Prosperity

Amsterdam, Oct. 8.—In his manifesto to the Bulgarian people announcing his accession to the throne, King Boris, according to a dispatch from Sofia, referred to the fact that his father, in renouncing the throne, sacrificed himself in the supreme national interest.

In taking the name of Baris III., the new King solemnly declared he would respect the constitution and work faithfully for the prosperity of the country where he was born and where he shared with the people their joy in its brilliant exploits and constant progress. The King declared he had ever been animated by the ideals of the people and the democratic spirit they had continually manifested in their traditional struggles for liberty and independence.

Bulgaria on Saturday notified the Powers with which she had been allied that they must quit Bulgarian territory within a month, says a Sofia dispatch to the Berlin Tageblatt.

Most of the Austrians have left Bulgaria, the dispatch adds, and the Germans are leaving.

A dispatch received here from Sofia quotes the Bulgarian semiofficial newspaper, Preporetz, as giving the following as the terms of the armistice entered into between Bulgaria and the Entente Allies:

The evacuation of the territories occupied by Bulgaria in 1916 which belonged to Serbia or Greece.

Re-establishment of Bulgarian rule in the portion of former Bulgarian territory occupied by troops of the Entente, to rinstance, Strumnitza.

Demoralization of the Bulgarian Army, except three divisions of infantry and four regiments of cavalry.

Consignment to the Allied Army of the arms, munitions and war material of the demobilized troops.

Capitulation by the Bulgarian units stationed westward of Uskub when the armistice is signed, the troops to remain guarded by the Entente until further orders.

Departure within a month of German and Austro-Hungarian troops military agencies, diplomatic and consular representatives and persons of those nationalities.

The Turks were not mentioned in the dispatch, according to the dispatch.

GERMAN CONFESSIONS

Beginning to Realize and Admit that a Nation of Scoundrels.

Amsterdam, Oct. 8.—Germany is beginning to realize and admit that it is a nation of scoundrels.

Press comment, always the best key to the public opinion of a nation, is veering around to the point where it is confessing Germany's faults. Finally the German papers are beginning to admit that they must abandon the idea that their armies are fighting for conquest, and realize that what they are fighting for is bare existence.

"It is a matter of damnable importance," says the Cologne Gazette always regarded as semi-official journal, "whether we are or are not regarded throughout the world as a nation of blackguards. Indeed we are being so regarded."

The people of the Fatherland are slowly awakening to the fact that the war has been misrepresented to them. The Kaiser himself has been forced to warn his soldiers of the American troops.

How completely disillusioned the German people have been is made clear by the following comment of the Munich Post:

"Let us say it openly and fearlessly—Germany's situation for the last two years at least has been falsely and lyingly misrepresented by many of our newspapers and in the public utterances of a majority of our statesmen.

"For the last four years we have been assured again and again that five minutes separated us from the complete and crushing overthrow of our enemies. Yet at this moment Germany is fighting for her very life.

"This is the kernel of the whole question. The fact of our people lies in their own hands to decide. It goes without saying that before the people can clearly see their way to their own salvation, every annexationist phantom must be dispelled!

"We are not fighting for Flanders and for the Baltic provinces, but for our bare existence. We are fighting for a peace that will yield us nothing and deprive us of nothing.

"If we can secure such a peace as that in the teeth of so formidable a superiority in enemy numbers, we shall have achieved a fame far greater than any triumph of arms could give us.

"Let that satisfy us."

GERMAN INCENDIARISM

Still Destroying Towns and Villages Notwithstanding Peace Proposals

Paris, Oct. 8—Loan, the stronghold to which the enemy has been clinging as the keypoint of his line on the southwest, apparently has been set afire by the Germans. The town was reported ablaze Sunday and fires were still burning yesterday.

Rheims has been finally and definitely cleared from the menace of German cannon. The Germans are in retreat on the whole front from the Suippe to the Arnes, as well as in the region south of Cambrai.

In the first named sector the Allies have reached the Arnes river, on which the enemy hoped to make a stand the same region the British Fifth Army has crushed counter-attacks which the enemy delivered in an effort to prevent its progress toward Busigny and cover their retreat to the south.

These two movements of retreat form a part of a plan which will have brought the German armies to new lines of resistance much nearer the frontier, it appears, but the constant pressure of the Allied troops is making the execution of the plan difficult and hazardous.

The peace proposals of the Central Powers are in no way interfering with the policy of destruction the German staff seems to have decided upon. Laumines, near Lens, is burning and fires have been seen west and southwest of Lille and between Douai and Sousain. The troops advancing in the Champagne found Nogent-l'Abesse, Beine and all the villages in the valley of the Suippe in flames.

Loan has been ablaze since Sunday, indicating that the enemy may be about to leave that region, as the Chemin des Dames, already turned by General Mangin on the west has been turned on the east by the troops who have crossed the Aisne at several points in the vicinity of Berry-au-Bac, making it appear that the Laonnois area is no longer tenable.

THE GRIP EPIDEMIC

Whether or not the grip epidemic, which has caused such serious concern throughout the country during the past ten days, is of German origin, the number of its victims has recently been increasing so rapidly that drastic steps throughout the nation are called for.

The latest reports from the Surgeon-General's Office unfortunately indicate that the disease is as yet unchecked in all army camps, and the Government has considered it necessary to issue a warning to the effect that all possible steps should be taken to prevent conditions from becoming even worse throughout the country. It is said that reports have been received showing the presence of the disease in every one of our states except five. The condition at our national capital, with its overcrowded offices, hotels and dwellings, has become so serious that extraordinary precautions are being taken—orders having been issued for the immediate closing of theaters, dance halls, moving picture houses, etc. The Washington schools have already been closed.

Similar precautions have been taken in Alexandria, where churches and Sunday Schools have been temporarily closed.

As has been stated, the epidemic is on the wane in Alexandria. Three deaths have occurred in our city during the past twenty four hours.

THE FINAL BREAK-UP

The world is now witnessing the beginning of the final break-up of the Central Alliance as a military power. How rapidly the Austro-German collapse will come no man can tell, but the period of ascendancy now reached by the Allies will continue to the end.

For the first time since 1914, Germany finds her front and rear caving in at the same time. Events even more momentous than those of the last few days lie just ahead.

It is regarded as certain that Turkey will quit the war soon. Other possibilities are:

Roumania will rejoin the Allies as a fighting nation.

Constantinople will be taken, the Dardanelles opened and the Black Sea, for years known as "a German lake," will be conquered.

Russia will be aided in establishing a battle front and getting back into the war.

Austria will be invaded and an Austrian collapse will result.

Then will come the big smash into Germany, with American troops forming a large part of Marshal Foch's battering-ram.

A final and desperate peace offensive by Germany this winter is now considered certain to follow present developments. Unrest is growing in Germany. The resignation of Hertling Von Payer and Von Hintze are significant demonstrations of the political upheaval that is to come in Hunland. The depression and hopelessness prevalent in Germany become more evident every day.

The Germans now face a debacle beside which the destruction of the French army at Sedan in the war of 1870 will be merely child's play.

BRIEF

"PEACE ONLY BY VICTORY"

The Stars and Stripes, the official newspaper published by the soldiers of the American Expeditionary Forces in France, says editorially about the enemy peace offensive:

"Let the weak hearted who are dreaming of a compromise; let the pacifists who are talking a peace by agreement; let the soldiers who have had enough of war; let the secretly inclined pro-Germans who think this war should end without a decision—let them one and all know once and for all that for the American Expeditionary Force there is no such word as "Peace" with the Huns unbeaten. The man who talks of peace today, except through victory, is a traitor."

The Fauquier Democrat in this connection says: The enemy peace offensive is likened to the action of German machine-gun crews in the Vesle fighting, when they fought and killed Americans until they were surrounded, then shouted "Kamerad." The mothers of the American soldiers in France want the same peace their sons demand. All the courage of the ancient Spartan mother is in the hearts of the women of America. The object of the Fourth Liberty Loan is to bring that peace—a just peace, a righteous peace, an American peace.

Every one who knows the Episcopal High School knew Mr. Mack, and every one who knew Mr. Mack, and every one who knew Mr. Mack, knows he has Dr. Blackford's friend.

To the Editor:

"MR. MACK."

Down the old winding road, driving his well-kept horse, smiling kindly greeting to all he chanced to meet and whistling as merrily as a boy comes Mr. Mack.

All love him and his cheerful way, and he loves all; his friends, little children, the sunlight, flowers, birds, his work, his country, and best of all his God.

One day we miss him along the old way will pass our faithful friend.

Within Heaven's portals, a gentleman catches the old familiar sound lost to us. With gracious smile of recognition, "An old friend!", he exclaims, and with courteous and cordial mie and out-stretche dhand, turns toward the opening gate.

NO DISCRIMINATION

The reason why the Allied nations cannot have any dealings with Germany while the Hohenzollern dynasty remains established there is not merely the sentimental one that decent people cannot do business with scoundrels. It is that and something more.

If any king emperor, kaiser, any despotic or autocratic form of government, can set out upon a career of conquest and dominion such as Germany embarked upon four years ago, and go unpunished when it fails, the temptation to do a similar thing will forever beset any individual or group of men who can seize or hold autocratic power. An essential object of the war, about the most essential object of the war, is that its outcome shall teach all kings, potentates and rulers that they must inevitably pay the penalty, personally pay it for the commission of such a crime. To show mercy to a criminal of the king would be to encourage other potential criminals.

Germany, indeed, may say that the outside world has no right to dictate its form of government. That is true. But so long as Germany exalts and supports the Kaiser it is particeps criminis with him in the crime. If we cannot deal with the Kaiser, neither can we deal with the German people under those circumstances. "What I say today," said Chancellor Maximilian in his speech to the Reichstag, "I say not only in my own name and those of my official helpers, but in the name of the German people." And he ends that speech with the threat that if the Allies do not accept the peace offer he makes a united Germany will double its fighting powers. There can be no discrimination between the German people and the Kaiser as long as the German people uphold the Kaiser.—Baltimore Sun.

WILSON'S REPLY

No Doubt Expressed as to His Reply to Germany's Peace Proposal

Following is the text of a joint resolution introduced in the Senate yesterday by Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, in answer to Germany's latest peace proposal.

"That there shall be no cessation of hostilities and no armistice until the imperial German government shall disband its armies and surrender its arms and munitions, together with the navy, to the United States and her allies in this war;

"That before any armistice shall be considered the imperial German government shall unreservedly consent to the principles of reparation declared as terms of peace by our allies;

"That it will pay in damages the cost of rebuilding and reconstructing all the cities and villages destroyed by its armies and restore to fertility the lands devastated by it;

"That it will repay every dollar and the value of all the property exacted from the people of any territory invaded by it;

"That it will make proper compensation and allowance for every crime committed by its armies contrary to the laws of warfare and humanity, whether on land or sea;

"That it will return to France Alsace and Lorraine and the indemnity exacted from her in 1870;

"And that it further accepts all the conditions laid down by the President in his address of January 8, 1918."

The peace notes from the German and Austrian empires are before President Wilson now, and he is working on his reply.

There is no doubt whatever as to the manner in which the President will dispose of this latest and most formidable "peace offensive" by the central powers. The forecast of yesterday that he would reject the proposals holds good today, but another element has entered into the matter and it calls for the extreme care the President is giving to the preparation of his answer.

As the President is again speaking for the entire allied world he is expected to issue a plain statement of fact which will have two purposes in view.

Chief of these will be to explain to the average citizen of the United States, as well as the average citizen of Great Britain, France and Italy, why it is impossible to consider peace with treachery and duplicity. The second purpose will be to explain to the German people and the Austrian people why peace is impossible while their destinies are directed by the some military autocracy which now before the spectre of defeat and under the cloak of an alleged democratic chancellor, asks that further bloodshed be avoided.

In some quarters today it was also suggested that the President, before the dispatch of his reply, would communicate with the representatives of the allied governments. This idea was based on a passage in the German note requesting that other belligerents be notified of its desire for peace.

RUSSIAN AIMS OUTLINED

Provisional Government to Aid Allies in Every Way

Washington, Oct. 8.—The Russian Embassy yesterday was advised by cable from Ufa of the aims of the Russian provisional government organized there last week.

The new government, which represents every faction save the Bolsheviki, intends to help the allies in every conceivable way possible to win the war, and Gen. M. V. Alexieff, former Commander-in-chief of the Russian army under the old regime, has been delegated as one of the men responsible for the creation of a strong army. The immediate aims of the new government are;

1. Struggle for the liberation of Russia from the power of the Bolsheviki Soviets.

2. The reintegration of Russia by readjoining regions which were detached or separated.

3. Annihilation of the Brest-Litovsk and all other international treaties concluded after the revolution of March.

4. Restoration of treaties with the allied nations.

5. Continuation of war against the German coalition.

The provisional government contemplates in its interior affairs the creation of a "single and powerful Russian army beyond the influence of political parties and subordinate, through its military chief, to the civil government." It also intends the establishment of strict military discipline.

In civil affairs the government provides that liberated Russia shall be constituted in accord with liberal principles of regional autonomy, and that the constituent assembly be decreed the possessor of supreme power.

The liberated parts of Russia will also be assured the re-establishment of democratic municipalities and zemstvos. National minorities will be allowed the free development of their national culture. The government secures the realization of civil liberties and will take necessary measures actually guaranteeing general security and public order.

READY TO GIVE AUTONOMY

Tisza Announces Concessions Also to Poland and Italy.

Amsterdam, Oct. 8.—Count Tisza, the former premier of Hungary, speaking at the session congress, at Budapest, is quoted by the Berlin Vossische Zeitung correspondent at the Hungarian capital as saying that autonomy, so far as possible, would be granted to the various nationalities living in Hungary, that Austrian territory occupied by Italy would go to Italy and that parts of Galicia would be annexed by New Poland. Count Tisza is reported by the correspondent to have said:

"Bulgaria's treachery and the situation on the western front led us to decide, together with Germany to undertake the peace step. We have sent a note to President Wilson announcing our acceptance of his fourteen points.

"We will try so far as possible to grant autonomy to nationalities living in Hungary. Austrian territory won by Italy shall fall to Italy and parts of Galicia shall fall to New Poland."

Count Tisza added that steps had been taken to guard against surprise on the Roumanian front.

EPIDEMIC GROWS.

60 Dead at Norfolk Cases Developing by Thousands

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 8.—Over a thousand new cases and close to two score deaths from Spanish Influenza is the record in Norfolk and Portsmouth during the last 24 hours.

People in houses where cases of the disease are known to exist have been appealed to wear antiseptic gauze masks while indoors. The masks are being furnished free of cost by the city, state and federal health officials.

Newport News, Va., Oct. 8.—With 2,000 or more cases of Spanish influenza here, not including those in the military camps, public health officials yesterday ordered the closing of all schools, theaters and other place of public assemblage. Ten deaths from the disease have been reported here in the past two days.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 8.—The administrative board yesterday afternoon ordered the closing of all soft drink places as a further step to prevent the spread of Spanish influenza.

All lodge meetings, dances and public gatherings are prohibited. The death toll has been ten here within the last 24 hours, with more than 2,000 cases in the city.

Roanoke, Va., Oct. 8.—All public schools and places of amusement were closed here yesterday and public gatherings and church services forbidden on account of the rapid spread of influenza. Three deaths resulting from the epidemic have been reported within the past twelve hours, and more than 90 new cases have developed. Health authorities place the number of cases of influenza in this city more than 800.

Two thousand cases of the disease are reported among employes of the Norfolk and Western Railway at various points, and it is expected that further spread may seriously hamper train operations.
